Dear Montana Elected Leaders,

Public lands are the heart and soul of Montana — essential to our economy, culture, and way of life. Yet, despite their undeniable value, out-of-touch politicians are still pushing dangerous efforts to strip federal management of these lands, opening the door to privatization and threatening our access to the places we love.

We closely watched a critical case in Utah — State of Utah v. United States — where Governor Spencer Cox and Attorney General Sean Reyes led an effort to seize federal control of over 18.5 million acres of Bureau of Land Management lands. This lawsuit sets a dangerous precedent that could impact over 200 million acres of public lands nationwide, including right here in Montana.

While the Supreme Court dismissed the case, it shows that threats to our public lands are alive and well.

More than that, just weeks into the Montana legislative session, a joint resolution brought by Representative Tom Millett (R-Marion) — LC 2912 — actively supports Utah's lawsuit to seize control of over 18.5 million acres of Bureau of Land Management (BLM) land.

But what's really at stake? Utah's lawsuit isn't just a threat to Utahns — it's a direct threat to our public lands here in Montana. If the lawsuit succeeds, it would set a harmful precedent, threatening at least 8 million acres of public lands in Montana.

Time and again, Montanans have stood up against land transfer. Now more than ever, we need you — our elected leaders — to stand strong in defense of our public lands and oppose these reckless efforts to dismantle federal management.

Montana's public lands are integral to who we are. From the majestic mountains to the sweeping plains, these lands provide vital recreational opportunities, protect wildlife habitat, support local economies, and preserve our history and legacy. In fact, a recent University of Montana poll shows that 95% of Montanans visited federal public lands in 2023. Even more compelling, 83% of Montanans recognize that these lands are key to our state's economy. Research consistently shows that counties with abundant public lands see stronger job growth, and Montana's outdoor recreation sector contributed $3.4 billion to the state's GDP in 2023 alone.

These lands are not just part of our landscape — they are the foundation of Montana's economy and way of life. That's why we, the people of Montana, stand united in opposition to any effort that would transfer our public lands to private ownership. We want these lands to be protected, maintained, and accessible for future generations.

The current push to transfer federal lands is not only irresponsible — it directly threatens what Montanans hold dear. It's time for you to act: we ask you to stand firm against attempts to irrevocably alter the future of public lands in the West.

Montanans are resolute in our commitment to keeping public lands in public hands. Whether you've long been a defender of our public lands or are just beginning to recognize the importance, we ask that you join us in ensuring that our precious landscapes remain accessible to all and safeguarded for future generations.

We will not stand idly by while our public lands are threatened. We urge you to take a bold stance in defence of Montana's public lands, now and always.

Sincerely,
